

Endnote

This publication is taken “as is” from my fathers original web-site “TSHIPS”.

In order to keep the content as original as possible I have not conducted any spelling or grammatical editing. I apologise for the lack of referencing-of-original-works. Should a copyright holder identify any photographs or other content then please contact me in order to gain credit (I will of course ask for authentication).

The graphics/pictures have been resized and repositioned (in most cases) in order to allow for conversion into to this document format. I have also included headers-and-footers on each page.
